

Yukon First Nations 101 - Online Workshop

Overview

Yukon First Nations 101 has been developed to educate students and employees about the culture and history of the First Nations Peoples of the Yukon, the cultural values shared among Yukon First Nations today, and how to communicate respectfully with First Nation individuals and communities.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the online course participants will be able to:

- Explain the concept of culture, and define terms and actions related to cultural competency
- Identify the eight language groups and the fourteen traditional territories occupied by Yukon First Nations
- Describe the pre-contact life of the original inhabitants of the lands now known as the Yukon
- Know how the arrival of Europeans and the subsequent exploration and colonization of their lands by non-Aboriginals impacted on the Yukon First Nation people
- Recognize cultural values that are, to some extent, shared among Yukon's First Nations, and the protocols that should be incorporated into interactions with First Nation individuals and communities in order to demonstrate respect for those values

Course Features

The course is written in clear, simple language with full-colour illustrations and user-friendly navigation. Participants can choose to enhance the learning experience by using audio or can turn off this feature. The course includes interactive exercises to engage learners and reinforce key concepts, and mandatory testing to verify their understanding of course content.

Participants can take their training from any location where there is internet access and can use a computer, tablet, or mobile phone.

Evaluation

This is a five-module course. To pass the course, participants must obtain 100% on each module test. Those who do not achieve 100% can review the content for the module and re-test as many times as necessary to complete the course. Test questions are randomly selected from a test bank, making each testing experience unique.

Successful participants can immediately download/print a Certificate of Completion that includes their name and the date of training.

Course Duration

This online course is self-paced. Participants may leave the course at anytime and can resume where they left off. The duration will depend on the individual participant and their prior knowledge of the subject matter. Most participants will complete training in less than 4 hours.
